Listening Evangelism

Jesus came in order to reconnect people with the God who made and loves us. He brought the hope of a new, never-dying life; a restored relationship and a life of purpose within his Kingdom.

He said that he alone is the one who can bring us back into relationship with our heavenly Father. And he sends his church to tell others about this great news. We are his messengers.

But what often stands in the way is a nervousness or fear that you'll get it wrong, mess up a friendship, or worse. For some, it's a paralysing fear. This Dunamis event will help you find a natural and fearless way into more faith-sharing conversations in the course of everyday life.

Learning from the example of the early church, we will look at how Christians today can cooperate with the Holy Spirit in helping people discover the good news about Jesus Christ for themselves. Through Biblical teaching, practical experience and thoughtful reflection, we look forward to seeing people equipped and anointed by God to be part of this.

- Overview of God's vision for evangelism
- Developing practical skills for sharing the gospel
- Being equipped by the Holy Spirit for our roles in this work

Join us for this important event ...and discover what God can do through you !

What's involved?

- Corporate worship and prayer, responsive to the activity of the Holy Spirit
- Systematic teaching, rooted in scripture and grounded in the realities of life
- Intentional transition from teaching to practice, helping participants learn through experience
- Debriefing, to deepen insights and understanding, and to model accountability

"I learned that I could do this"

"The whole atmosphere was safe and loving. No pressure. Everything is explained and low-key."

"The scriptural foundation is very valuable."

"You've taken the stress out of evangelism."

This is the last in a series of six training events equipping people for spiritual service and leadership in the church as it seeks to obey the Great Commission in the power of the Holy Spirit.
